

For Business

Best Buy is now offering technology services to businesses like yours.

To help us celebrate the launch of Best Buy For Business, we're offering a no obligation, on-site consultation with one of our experienced Business Technology Consultants—absolutely free.

Our discovery team, led by a Best Buy For Business Technology Consultant, initiates the process with a review of your business and current technology infrastructure. During this initial consultation, the Business Technology Consultant won't try to sell you anything. They are there to listen to you.

Based on the joint review, your Best Buy For Business Technology Consultant may prepare a customized proposal to upgrade your technology environment to improve your internal process or to gain a competitive advantage; In any case, you are under no obligation.

Here's a summary of our proprietary approach to helping businesses like yours:

- Needs Assessment

We'll discuss your needs, examine your current office set-up and develop a customized recommendation.

- Product Acquisition

We offer access to over 100,000 business technology products, plus flexible payment options.

- Professional Installation

Geek Squad® will install your system, offer training and even help dispose of old equipment.

- Ongoing Support

We offer affordable support options whenever you should need it, 24 hours a day.

FREE On-site Technology Consultation

with a Best Buy For Business Technology Consultant.
