DIGITAL ENTERTAINMENT & HOME AUTOMATION FROM

A day in the connected life.

Busy morning.

Watch the news, check the markets and read email while moving from bedroom to kitchen to den. You're multitasking in a bathrobe.

Say goodbye to the house.

The house turns off the lights and dials down the thermostat.

Splash!

While the girls play in showers too fun to miss, the DVR saves their favorite TV shows.

Share an awesome adventure.

A digital scrapbook of the kids at summer camp makes distant relatives feel a lot closer.

How homework works.

A kids' Internet radio station streams through the speakers. Last night's TV shows run on the flatscreen. Cool toys in your own room makes studying a lot more fun.

Men don't cry while watching sports.

Unless they're chopping onions. Pause the game on the kitchen TV; go find a towel.

Baby, you look fabulous.

With a nursery cam connected to video screens around the house, watching the baby becomes the best thing on TV.

The first rule of vacation.

Don't worry. Check the house through remote access, then pull on your flippers.

The popcorn's ready. Start the movie.

With one click of the remote, the lights fade down, the surround sound cranks up, and the excitement begins.

The late show.

Romantic comedy. Borrring. The kids sneak downstairs and watch a different movie in the den.

Lights out at 11.

Kids tucked in bed. Late news on the bedroom TV. The house changes the lights and thermostat to their overnight settings. Sweet dreams!

Forget that ruby slippers stuff.

Just tap the green button to get back to the home screen. One remote. Six main function keys. Navigation: easy.

Technology? Magic? Does it really matter?

Welcome to ConnectedLife.Home

Fill a room with music by touching a button. Turn on the lights before you get home. Technology creates a lot of magic. But the real trick is making the technology invisible.

That's what ConnectedLife.Home does. It hides the complicated technology. All you interact with is an easy-to-use system that connects your family to digital entertainment, photos, videos, and home controls. Simple. Smart. Intuitive. Technology that's very easy to live with, every day.

- Provides a simple interface for managing digital media and home controls through TV screens and touch panels.
- Minimizes the clutter of a/v components, cables, remotes, and discs.
- Simple installation uses the wiring and infrastructure in new and existing homes.
- Each ConnectedLife.Home system is installed and supported by the professionals at Best Buy For Business.

Next Generation TV

Watch shows on your schedule, from any connected TV. Adds DVR features to your standard TVs.

Digital Music and Audio

Hear your favorite playlists, even Internet radio, throughout your home.

Photos and Home Videos

Upload and store photos and videos, archive to disc, and share with family and friends

Lighting

Make presets for parties or movie watching. Schedule lighting changes for when you're away.

Climate Control

Adjust thermostat settings by schedule or remote Internet access.

Home Safety

Watch the baby or see what's happening while you're away through remote-access cameras.

You call.
Your home answers.

A secure Internet connection provides access to your ConnectedLife.Home system from anywhere: across town or halfway around the world.

Once you log in, you'll see the same familiar interface screens you see on the TV in your living room. That gives you control over everything — surveillance cameras, lights, climate control, even DVR scheduling and music playlists.

Please note that after your included 30-day trial, there is a $19.95 monthly fee for remote access service.

ConnectedLife.Home

Living the connected life means turning down the thermostat in your living room. From the beach on Kaua'i.

Remote Access

Sandals? Check. Sunblock? Check. Lights off? Oops. No matter how far you roam, ConnectedLife.Home lets you pack peace of mind along with your flippers.

Just get on the Web from your mobile phone or any computer, and you can control lights, thermostat, even spy on the cat. Or show off pictures of your kids by accessing your home's media server.

Forget something? No worries. Just log in, check in, then enjoy the beach.

- Remote access to surveillance cameras let you watch over the house while you're away — or keep tabs on your vacation place when you're home.
- Forgot to setup the recording of that must-see game on TV? Just log in from work, and access the DVR scheduler.
- If you're coming home early, or (better yet) extending your vacation another week, use remote access to adjust lighting and climate control schedules.

Halfway across the Pacific Ocean we remembered what we forgot: to turn down the thermostat. No worries. Dad's sliding it down right now from his cell.

Ahhhhh... This is the (connected) life.

Music to your ears.

With a simple click of the remote, you can play your favorite tunes throughout every connected room in your house – without missing a beat.

Build playlists, listen to your CDs, MP3s and even Internet radio when and where you want to.

Upload your entire music collection. Transfer music from your PC's digital music library. Then search by album, artist, song title or genre.

Let nothing get in the way of your music.

ConnectedLife.Home

One system. That lights up faces all over the house.

Next Gen Digital TV and Music

Big media companies used to control TV and music. Now you do.

ConnectedLife.Home delivers digital entertainment to everyone in the family — wherever and whenever you want.

Pause your favorite TV show and resume it later in any system-connected room, away from the kids. Or let the kids watch two movies in two different rooms, all from the same Entertainment Center. Make a playlist and rock the house without touching a CD.

If that doesn't make your face light up, the simplicity of it will.

- Record live TV and play it back later.
- Pause live TV and resume the program in a different room.
- Record and view separate programs simultaneously.
- Play DVDs with the integrated DVD player.

Mom's party mix.
Mom's a rocker from way back, and she knows how to put together a playlist. Dad sets the lights, Mom puts out the food. Everything's ready for the guests to arrive.

The family media lab.

Working with personal digital media is easy. Just plug your camcorder into the Digital Entertainment Center. Or insert the memory card from your digital still camera. Upload your files and go to work.

Creative and fun.

Crop photos, adjust contrast and edit out redeye. Assemble home videos into DVDs. It's easy to make new memories.

Grandma and Grandpa will be happy to watch the kids. As soon as they get the DVD.

Photos and Home Videos

Family photos and home videos are too precious to stash in a shoebox. ConnectedLife.Home gives you one seamless system for uploading, editing, displaying, sharing and archiving your family memories.

Reliving special moments has never been easier. And whenever Grandma and Grandpa want to see the kids, they just pop in the disc.

- Upload home videos to the system and burn them to DVDs for sharing with family and friends.
- Upload, edit and store thousands of family photos. Archive to disc or on the Web.
- Create slideshows and digital scrapbooks that you can enjoy on any connected TV in the house — or through remote access.

A present for Grandma. She's turning 70 next week, and the grandkids are creating something special: A digital scrapbook.

Baby pictures. Trip to Yellowstone. That breakfast with the dog.

Mom says Grandma will need two hankies.

ConnectedLife.Home

A touch of simplicity

Our experts help you program your system for the way you live and the way you think. All you have to do is touch a button.

Optional touch panels can be wall mounted in as many rooms in your house as you want. They're designed to be very user-friendly, familiar and visually pleasing.

ConnectedLife.Home

One system that controls your entire home environment. Who's your best friend now?

Lights, Climate, and Safety

Futuristic technology meets stone-age simplicity. This system is designed to go with the flow of your day, your family and your life – all with one-touch control.

Pre-program "Hello" and "Goodbye" to prepare your home for your arrival and departure. Check on the baby from the TV connected in the kitchen. Or keep an eye on the kids' backyard olympics while you're watching a movie in the living room.

- Create up to five preset programs of lighting and temperature for special occasions like dinner parties or movie night.
- View live feeds from 24/7 surveillance cameras on your TV or via the Web.
- Control the lights, room-by-room with a simple touch.
- See today's weather or a five-day forecast at a glance.

Dog days of summer. Outside, it's hot and humid. Inside, it's cool and comfortable.

But when it's time to run errands, the touch of a button saves electricity by turning off the lights and the air conditioner.

Your system. Your way.

ConnectedLife.Home includes everything you need to connect to your home. You can also customize and upgrade with add-ons such as:

- Thermostats
- Light switches and dimmers
- Wireless cameras
- Programmable remote
- Extender remote
- Keypad link
- Media extenders
- External hard drive (network-enabled)
